Son and Daughter Give Party Feting Mrs. Billesbach

Mrs. J. Billesbach was guest of honor at a barbecue given at her La Honda home Sunday by her son and daughter, Bert Feliz of Oakland and Mrs. Carl Wischhusen of Redwood City. The barbecue was in celebration of Mrs. Bach's 65th birthday anniversary.

Present for the party were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Feliz and son, Cotton; J. D. Feliz and Mr. and Mrs. C. Feliz and daughter, Carmelita, of Oakland; Mrs. Jack Galene, Mrs. S. Roche and granddaughter, Barbara, and Lester Feliz of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. E. Rockhold of Los Altos, Charles Van Soosten of La Honda, Mr. and Mrs. John Leahy, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Rockhold and son, Otto Peckman, Joe Mendez and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wischhusen of Redwood City.

Young Cotton Feliz was entertainer for the afternoon with music from his accordion.

The oyster industry forms the United States' most valuable fishery from the standpoint of employment.

Life Saving Course Starts Monday at Evening School

An American Red Cross life saving and water safety course is to be sponsored by the Sequoia Adult Evening School, with classes to start Monday at 7 p.m. at the Sequoia High School pool.

In order to complete the senior life saving course an enrollee must complete 13 lessons as set up by the Red Cross. The course will be held once a week—on Mondays—until the 13 lessons have been completed.

Last Spring a similar course was conducted and 34 senior life savers completed the tests. The course is open to both men and women. This program is not open to high school day students unless they are 17 years of age, Clyde Devine, life saving instructor, emphasizes.

Those wishing to procure a junior or senior life saving rating are asked to report for the class at the opening session Monday.

Winners Announced In Ryan's Contest

Winners of the Good Will Contest staged by Ryan Furniture Co., 837 Main St., were announced this week by W. D. Ryan, manager.

First prize, a 4-piece bedroom suite, was awarded to Mrs. Ollie Rowley of Redwood City.

Mrs. P. DeBenedetti received a 2-piece living room set for second place. A 5-piece dinette was given to Mrs. Anna Robart for third place.

Others who were given merchandise prizes included Mrs. Wilma Lutje, Mrs. Roy L. McIntyre, Mrs. E. Bickerstaff, Mrs. A. Torriglia, Miss Margaret Camacho, Mrs. Thelma Hooping and Mrs. Sam Wayne.

Trumpeter swans are the largest migratory waterfowl in North America.

MENLO PARK NEWS NOTES

Two new houses started this week at Felton Gables and three at the Flood property. Those two subdivisions are selling rapidly and soon will be dotted with new cottages.

Plans for the new $125,000 theater to be erected on the highway nearly opposite the grammar school, are nearly completed. The new show house will have a seating capacity of 500 and be the last word in modernistic design.

Frank Gainer and family are vacationing at Sebastopol, Sonoma County. Mr. Gainer is superintendent of the mosquito abatement district.

Menlo Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West, is planning a card party for Thursday evening, Sept. 25. Score cards will be 25 cents. Mrs. Catherine Derry and Louise Murray will be chairmen.

The annual communion of the Knights of Columbus at the Church of the Nativity last Sunday was attended by 75 members from the councils of the Peninsula. Breakfast was served in the hall adjoining the church by ladies of the Sodality.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Weeden celebrated their 49th wedding anniversary at their home on El Camino Real on Monday.

Mrs. Mary Reynolds has returned to her home from a San Mateo hospital, much improved in health.

Among the numbers appearing on the program sponsored by the 26th District, American Legion on Friday, Sept. 19, were Eddie Sundalove, baritone; George Wilcox, pianist; Fred Harvey and Edith Skare.

Isabella Weeden Lindquist, 26th district chairman, presented the program and led community singing.

Rev. Charles Fritz is forming a junior altar guild which will be composed of older girls attending Episcopal Sunday school. They will care for the alter on Laurel St. in the new chapel where Sunday school is held.

County Leases Building For Jail in Pescadero

Lease of a Pescadero building housing the branch county jail and fire station in that Coastside community to San Mateo County was recorded by County Recorder T. Clark Rice here.

The county will pay Frank E. Duarte, owner, $35 monthly for the Main St. structure during the term of the 5-year lease. Provision for the jail was made by the county supervisors in the budget for the fiscal year, on the recommendation of Sheriff James J. McGrath.

Bank Wins Award For Newspaper Ads

Newspaper advertising carried in the columns of this newspaper during the past 12 months has won for the Bank of America the "Socrates Award" for nationwide leadership in bank advertising, according to word just received from New York.

The award, eagerly sought by hundreds of leading banks yearly throughout the country, takes into account the ideas, layout and illustrative technique, excellence of copy and service to the public used in all types of media. This year's award was won by newspaper advertising placed in California newspapers exclusively.

Official point scores showed a leadership of 20 points over the nearest competitor, an advantage of 34 per cent.

Boys Choose Prison Over Reformatory

Informing Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt they would rather serve a term in the county jail or San Quentin Prison than go back to Preston Reformatory, from which they had escaped, two 19-year-old youths pleaded guilty to burglary charges in superior court Monday.

The pair, LeRoy A. Frisch and William Look, were arrested in Redwood City on July 30 on burglary charges and for driving a stolen car. They admitted several articles in their car, including a shotgun, had been stolen from the Peter Faber home on Newell Rd., East Palo Alto. Their loot also included two suitcases of clothing from the Faber home. The car had been stolen in San Bernardino County, and grand theft charges await them there, Sheriff James J. McGrath said.

A 16-year-old Oklahoma youth arrested with Frisch and Look was turned over to juvenile court authorities.

Through their attorney, Gerard Wagstaffe, whom Judge McNutt appointed to represent the youths, they said they would prefer to serve terms in the county jail or in San Quentin than go back to Preston to stay until they reached their majority — even if the jail or prison terms were longer than would be their confinement at the juvenile reformatory.

Wagstaffe said the youths referred to Preston as a "hell hole." They told him they had escaped by picking a lock on a bakery room door.

Judge McNutt continued the case until next Monday for pronouncing sentence.

Robert Cahill Hopes To Visit S.C. Home

Hoping that he'll get his first long furlough since he volunteered on March 17, Robert J. Cahill of 775 Chestnut St., San Carlos, expects to spend a few days at home shortly.

Cahill is one of the many Peninsula youths who went into the army with the March contingent and was sent to the tank corps school at Ft. Knox, Ky., almost immediately. He went through master mechanics' school at Knox and since his graduation has been busy keeping tanks and trucks in repair.

Cahill was working as a submarine mechanic at Mare Island Navy Yard when he enlisted in the army.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Cahill, are looking forward to his coming home on leave. It will be the first time they have seen him since he went into the army.

Arthur Marchington Home on Furlough

Home on furlough after participating in the army maneuvers in the Pacific Northwest is Arthur F. Marchington, 1413 Brittan Ave., San Carlos.

On Sept. 23, Marchington's vacation will end and he'll go back to Camp San Luis Obispo where he is attached to the 160th Infantry.

On maneuvers, Marchington's lot is considerably better than that of the average infantryman. He drives a supply truck while most of his mates walk. He has been in the army since March and says "It is not so bad after you get used to it."

William C. Johnson Wins Third Stripe

William C. Johnson, 1341 6th Ave., Belmont, recently received his third promotion in seven months when he received his sergeant's stripes in B Company, 185th Infantry.

Being stationed near home Johnson is able to spend considerable time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Johnson. He thinks army life is great.

That "stitch in time"

TELEPHONE MEN hold to the policy that it's never too much trouble to look for trouble.

Usually they find it before it finds them—a broken insulator—a worn part—a hundred things that might interfere with your telephone service. They rarely do interfere because of this Bell System practice: look for trouble before it happens—don't let it happen.

Defective Chimney Blamed for Fire

A defective chimney was blamed for a fire which did several hundred dollars' worth of damage to a small house owned by J. R. Morris on Eaton Ave. near Alameda de las Pulgas, just north of the Redwood City city limits Saturday afternoon. A shed adjoining the house was destroyed.

Vetch and Hay Lost In Pescadero Fire

PESCADERO—A fire believed caused by a combine harvester burned over 40 acres of vetch and oat stubble on the Tony Pimintel ranch two miles south of here Tuesday afternoon and destroyed about $1200 worth of stacked vetch and hay in the fields.

Firemen from the county fire station at Pescadero controlled the flames, but not before they had destroyed about 200 sacks of vetch and 14 tons of hay. Friction sparks caused by the combine cutter striking rocks probably started the fire, firemen said. The ranch is under lease from the Shore Land Co.

To relieve the shortage of fuel, the peat production in Sweden will reach about 500,000 tons this year.

Bayshore Crash Brings Damage Suit in South

A $30,000 damage suit sought by Mrs. Dorothy Doolan for injuries suffered in a San Mateo County automobile wreck is on file in Los Angeles superior court. Albert Cheney, named defendant, was accused of being under the influence of liquor when his car and one in which Mrs. Doolan was riding crashed on Bayshore Hwy. Oct. 26, 1940.

CITED AFTER ACCIDENT

Tony Rodriguez, 37, of 204 Hemlock Ave., Redwood City, was cited for using faulty equipment after a trailer which he was pulling with his car came loose on El Camino Real in Menlo Park and crashed into the Henry Lusk Electric Shop, smashing a corner of the building and breaking a plate glass window.

Church Gets New Flag, Receives Members

A large Christian flag—of white silk with a blue corner in which is a red cross—now stands on the platform of the First Methodist Church, along with the American flag, as the result of a presentation made at the morning service Sunday. The flag, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Louda Jr., was officially presented to the church by Donald L. Bogie.

At the rites the following were welcomed into membership: Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hunt, Mrs. B. C. Evans and Elizabeth and Gregory Evans, Mrs. Ida L. Dillon and Mrs. E. Harrison.

Fourth Speed Charge Faces Atherton Man

The state speed law and Stephen W. Gerber of Atherton, oil company executive, are at odds again.

Last March Gerber was acquitted by Justice of the Peace Hugh Mullin Jr. of San Mateo on a charge of speeding 75 miles an hour on Bayshore Hwy. Gerber's simple defense was that he had control of his machine and that he was not endangering anyone else.

Gerber appeared before Judge Mullin after obtaining a change of venue from the court of Justice of the Peace Edward I. McAuliffe of Redwood City.

Gerber was arrested last Thursday on Bayshore Hwy. by Highway Patrolman Charles Eagan, who ticketed the Atherton man for traveling at 70 miles an hour. The citation was filed Monday. Gerber is due to appear before Judge McAuliffe Sept. 26.

Whether Gerber will again ask a change of venue is not known. Twice before, when arrested in South San Francisco on speeding charges, he had the cases transferred to the court of Judge McAuliffe. Once he drew a fine of $15 and the other time he was fined $5. On the third occasion he had his case moved to the San Mateo court.

Stanley E. Horne Is Taken by Death

Death came Sunday at Fort Miley Hospital to Stanley Edward Horne of 1645 James Ave., Redwood City, a structural steel worker employed at the Hauck Co., San Francisco.

Mr. Horne, who was 46 years old, had been in the veterans' hospital only a day, but had been ill for three months.

Mr. Horne was the husband of Rachel Horne and the father of Stanford David and Stanley E. Horne Jr. He was a native of Philadelphia, but had lived in Redwood City 16 years and in California 25 years.

MRS. ROGER WATKINS

Conducting the Redwood City Tribune's Better Home and Garden Institute Study.

It is with pleasure the Tribune presents to local home and garden lovers the advice and help of Mrs. Watkins. Many homemakers who have been puzzled over just what is right for a certain type of garden color scheme, a type of wall paper or drapery plan for a sunny or dark interior will not have to worry their way through this problem. Mrs. Watkins will correspond with those interested in her service which of course is paid for by the members of the institute whose aim is better living and better comfort in home and garden arrangements.

Living Room Ideas

Store Displays Give Hints For Redecoration Projects

The heart of a home is the living room. That's one room even the most casual guest is sure to see and it's where the family gathers after the evening meal. Incidentally, it can be the most interesting room in the house, which helps to explain why most stores make living rooms the principal features of their Home Furnishings Style Shows.

Almost any model living room can supply an idea or two which the observant home-maker can use herself. It may be the way tables are grouped about the chairs to bring table lamps to the spots where they'll do the most good. It may be the window treatment. It may be the way love seats flank the fireplace or a knee-hole desk juts out from a window.

THE COST? NOTHING

One of the nice things about Home Furnishings Style Shows is that ideas don't cost a penny. There's no copyright law to protect a plan for arranging sectional bookcases along a "dead" wall and the home-makers who copy the arrangement will never be sued for infringement of anyone's rights!

Although there are literally thousands of variations, all living rooms are furnished with three basic groups—conversational, reading, writing. The groups may be combined or separated, but the woman who wants her living room to be well arranged must keep those three functions in mind.

Conversation requires that sufficient chairs be placed close enough together, and faced in the right way, so that a reasonable number of guests can talk to each other conveniently when seated. To meet reading requirements, chairs must be placed so that enough illumination is provided, both by daylight and at night. The writing function, of course, requires a desk.

HERE'S SIMPLE TEST

One way any home-maker can apply to her living room is to survey the scene immediately after guests leave. Are the chairs moved from the positions in which they were placed? Are tables shoved back out of the way or pulled closer to certain chairs? Is a floor lamp yards from its normal position? If so, chances are the furniture was poorly placed in the first place.

It's a slick measuring rod—within limitations, of course. Allowances have to be made for special circumstances.

Swedish Massage Is Health Builder

Maintaining or regaining health through the use of Swedish Massage is recommended by Henry K. Dombalian of the Health Studio, 833 Main St.

Disease, Dombalian says, is the result of disregarding Nature's laws and creating a condition called "auto intoxication" or "self poisoning."

"One of the oldest and most scientific methods of helping nature overcome this condition is Swedish Massage. Steam baths and scientific massaging for all parts of the body tone up the system, help soothe the nerves and increase circulation. This helps throw poisons from the body.

"Massage is nature's own way of treatment and massage, combined with a program of good habits that are outlined as part of the treatment, point the way to better health.

"Digestion, blood circulation and respiration are the chief factors in health and these all are maintained in proper order by the use of the Health Studio's program of massage and baths."

Treatments are made by appointment which may be arranged for by telephone.

Getting Right Mattress Is Important Task

Health authorities rank poor posture as injurious to beauty as slovenly make-up or a faulty figure. Cultivating good posture, they say, should be a 24-hour-a-day job, for the results of long hours of daytime training can be undone by sleeping on a bed which permits the body to slump and fall into ungracious lines.

Because sleeping posture depends upon the mattress and springs, not the will of the sleeper, it is essential that beds be equipped with good bedding.

No More Static In Fluorescent Light

Radio interference, long the "bugbear" of fluorescent lighting in the home, has been eliminated from the new fluorescent floor and table lamps being shown this Fall. For smartness of effect and to accommodate the mechanism, shades usually are square or oblong.

Modern Decorative Ideas for the Home

Modern as tomorrow is this unusual living room, with one entire wall devoted to an array of utility cabinets of many types, designed to form a continuous pattern of drawers, shelves and bookcases, with a desk as the center unit. Dark drawer pulls stand out against the blond wood, used also for the end tables, cocktail table and square table. All over America, home-makers will find interesting rooms featured in Home Furnishings Style Shows—rooms brimming over with ideas which may be copied or adapted to individual requirements.

Light Color Tones In New Furniture

"Light colors are coming into the home furnishings picture this year more strongly than ever. An illustration of this is a graceful sofa, upholstered in pale peach damask with a small blue leaf design. Heavy grey fringe around the bottom finishes the piece.

J-M Backs Drive on Waste

Employees Urged to Aid Defense by Conserving Materials

Everbody in America saw a good lesson in that recent aluminum pots-and-pans drive.

In a few day's time we ordinary American families chipped in enough old aluminum pots and pans to build 1825 airplanes.

Maybe each of us gave only one pot or pan, but look how it added up!

There's now almost the same scarcity of some other materials as there is of aluminum. And there's certainly a scarcity of time and money.

So in all the factories, every worker is being urged to make an extra effort to avoid waste of even so much as a nail or a screw or of a fraction of an ounce of working material, or even minutes of time.

The aluminum drive showed us how little things can add up to big things in our Defense Effort.

Johns-Manville is wholeheartedly in support of Uncle Sam's campaign to reduce waste and conserve materials on every hand.

At all J-M plants, no item is too small. It may be only a bolt, a shingle, a shipping carton or a can of asphalt. But thousands of these items are handled daily, and small wastes can mount up to a shortage that could seriously hamper the defense program and J-M's operations.

Jobholders in J-M offices likewise are helping by cutting down on such items as envelopes, paper, phone calls and telegrams, and by conserving electricity, fuel, etc.

Remember how small savings can add up to something tremendous if a whole nation is working at 'em.

Defense Articles Praise Industry

The fourth of a series of articles sponsored by Johns-Manville and telling of the contributions which various industries are making to national defense will appear in the September 27th issue of the Saturday Evening Post (on the newsstands Wednesday, September 24th).

The article, paid for by Johns-Manville at regular advertising rates, was written by Fulton Lewis Jr., noted radio commentator, and deals with the oil industry, an industry which J-M has had the privilege of serving with its products for many years.

In the article Mr. Lewis outlines the important contributions now being made by the men of the oil industry.

"Oil, from top to bottom, is ready," writes Mr Lewis. "If the needs of National Defense call for still more production, I know, and past production proves it, that this production will be accomplished by American workers, by American scientists and by American management, working together to guarantee that the American Way of Life shall not perish from this earth."

Previous articles in the Saturday Evening Post told of the part the steel, automotive and chemical industries are playing in building America's defense. Subsequent articles will deal with other basic industries now engaged in the most gigantic undertaking in the nation's history.

J-M FAMILY ALBUM

SERVICE WITH A SMILE—These five pretty uniformed J-M girls deliver the mail. They are just part of J-M's General Headquarters Service Department that delivers or sends out thousands of letters and packages each day, handles the 750,000 GHQ phone calls each year, mimeographs and distributes a ton of bulletins a month, takes care of all the equipment, and hundreds of other jobs.

Transite Cargo Helps Firemen

A load of J-M Transite Conduit on a lighter was used as a fireproof base from which to fight the spectacular fire aboard the freighter Panuco on New York's waterfront. Several hose lines were directed from the lighter as firemen were able to check the $2,000,000 blaze which took more than 30 lives. The Transite was to be shipped in the ill-fated freighter to the U. S. Naval Base at Guantanamo, Cuba.

J-M Transite Conduit is widely used in the electrical field for both underground and overhead installations to protect power and light lines.

Simple Changes Provide Light Conditioned Living

Secret of This Cheery Living Room Is Sight-Saving Light. It Comes Mainly from Old Lamps and a Ceiling Fixture Equipped with New Accessories Introduced Recently by Lighting Experts.

By Jean Prentice

SCIENCE, having discovered that eyes are less apt to strain under good lighting than under poor, is now making it easy for every family to improve its lighting.

Experts and designers in the lighting field have worked out ways to make over older lamps and fixtures so that even the home of very modest means can be light conditioned.

In the room shown here two old-type lamps at the davenport were made over to give better lighting, and the old-style ceiling fixtures to produce new indirect lighting. From a room haphazardly lighted a change was quickly and inexpensively made to illumination that meets the engineers' standards.

Typical of ingenious light-improving gadgets designed is a round metal reflector plate which slips readily into an old-style bridge lamp. This disk plus a new silvered-bowl light bulb provide excellent indirect lighting.

Many other make-over lighting items are now appearing on the electrical counters in stores everywhere. What looks like mixing bowls with a hole in the bottom are really translucent diffusing bowls which can be screwed into most older lamps. They convert harsh raw light into soft illumination.

Such a bowl was installed in each of the two lamps at the davenport shown here. A 100-watt light bulb was added in each. White-lined shades were used to reflect a maximum amount of light. Uncomfortable glare was eliminated. The lighting is well distributed. It is ample for easy seeing.

Because a pianist needs especially good light to read small music notes without eyestrain, a new scientifically approved lamp with 100-200-300-watt bulb was placed in this room by the "upright."

The old-style ceiling fixture had been both a decorative and lighting problem, as it is in many homes. But new attractive indirect lighting was secured in a jiffy with metal and plastic shades and silvered-bowl bulbs.

Lighting specialists have devised neat ways to improve almost all types of old fixtures until new ones can be purchased. For the single ceiling socket or drop cord so prevalent in many homes, there are new indirect lighting adaptors that can be easily screwed into the socket.

In fact the woman who decides to make over her lighting for the longer evenings ahead will find any number of new inexpensive ideas to help her brighten the corners.

A single peony may produce 3,000,000 grains of pollen.

A "regicide" is a person who kills a king.

Potatoes are about eight-tenths water.

Floors

Rug Changes Alter Room

Completely refurnishing a home or even a series of rooms is a pleasure seldom permitted to the homemaker, even though at times one devoutly desires the opportunity.

Those are the times when a complete change of floor coverings will restore a jaded room to health and beauty. No one operation so completely changes the aspect, bringing new color, new life and new beauty to worn surroundings.

In the first place, the aspect of the entire room changes completely when the floor covering changes. That in itself is a major achievement. Then it must be noted that the rug or carpet ties a room or series of rooms together.

In these days of definite period decoration, one of the exceptions which prove the rules is that given the proper relating influence, furnishings of different periods may live together in perfect peace and harmony. The floor covering is the influence that accomplishes that result. It is the background which unifies and harmonizes the elements into a delightful whole.

Edward Handschin In Army Hospital

The army career of Edward Handschin, 836 Eighth St., has been confined almost entirely to a hospital bed at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind. Handschin was stricken with rheumatic fever shortly after he arrived at the Indiana post and expects to be home with a medical discharge sometime within the next few months.

He was assigned to the tank corps when he was sent East and spent some time in radio school before he was taken ill.

Premier Showing Set for Auto

The big, luxurious 1942 Willys Americar sedan will be given its premier showing tomorrow in the Luella Motors Willys showroom. If Debutante Iris Waltrip's smile means what it seems to, she's declaring: "Isn't it a gorgeous automobile?" Above is a partial view of the beautiful interior which shows an innovation,—plastic upholstery.

Contract Is Awarded To Remove Street Dips

A city contract for five local street improvement projects has been awarded to Peter Sorensen, whose bid of $8953 was the lowest of two submitted to City Manager C. L. Dimmitt. W. O. Tyson, the other bidder, estimated the work to cost $10,166.50.

Included in the contract is elimination of dips on Brewster Ave. at the Fulton St. and Grand St. intersections and straightening corners on Hudson St. at the intersections of Redwood and Roosevelt Aves. Also included is improvement of a portion of the surface of Harbor Blvd.

Bakery, Household Jobs Now Available

With jobs continuing to exceed the supply of workers available to the Sequoia High School Vocational Placement Service, James M. Eva, instructor in charge, announced here that he had an opening for an apprentice baker with a local shop and that he had a number of requests to supply young women for housework. Anyone desiring such positions should contact Eva at the high school.

'Tobacco Road' Opens In S.F. September 21

"Tobacco Road," world-famous stage play with its realistic story which the picture dared not tell for fear of censorship, is returning to San Francisco for a farewell engagement at the Curran Theater beginning Sunday night, Sept. 21. There will be matinees Wednesday and Saturday and seats will be scaled at popular prices. The cast is headed by the noted star, John Barton.

Written by Jack Kirkland, the real "Tobacco Road," with its humorous and dramatic story of the illiterate and sex-ridden share-croppers of Georgia, is the most successful play in the history of the theater. It ran eight years on Broadway and has been presented in 310 cities in 41 states with return engagements of from one to eight times in 214 cities. More than 7,000,000 theatergoers have been thrilled by its authentic picture of life among casual and callous people, ignorant of everything but sex and a distorted religion, whose one redeeming quality is their love of the farmland.

John Barton, now in his fifth year as Jeeter Lester, will give his 1485th portrayal of the old Georgia sharecropper at the opening performance. The cast, made up of the players of the Broadway company, includes Sara Perry as Ada—the wife, Vinnie Phillips, Robert Rose, Merryl Boyden, William Bishop, Sondra Johnson, Dick Lee, Lillian Ardell, William Robertson and Edwin Walter.

Mail orders are now being received for the final appearance of the modern American stage classic.

Forestal O'Connell At Ft. Knox Base

Having completed a long series of instruction courses in armored forces detachment schools since he went into the army nearly a year ago, Forestal (Forey) O'Connell, 57 Fulton St., is hoping that he'll soon be released from training.

O'Connell has been at the tank training center at Ft. Knox, Ky., since he first entered the army. His brother, Dan O'Connell, reports he did a short stretch in the base hospital a few months ago and now is back at his job in the intelligence office.

FAMILY STYLE LIGHTING

See that each member of your family has enough light where eyes are busy reading or working or playing. Crowding around a single good lamp is not enough. The "one good parlor lamp" is a thing of the past in the modern home. Good light from Better Sight Lamps must be provided at davenports, at favorite chairs, and at study desks where eyes are at work during the after-supper to bedtime hours.

Promote eye happiness and family happiness in your home by family style lighting. Good lamps are inexpensive items to buy right now. Electricity is cheaper than ever before. It is one of the few items that have not increased in cost. There may be several rooms in your home that need reconditioning with better light from modern fixtures. Make a list of the lighting needs in your home and then do a little shopping around. You'll be surprised at how little it costs to bring a big improvement in the lighting conditions in your home.
